Operation Identification

Operation Identification is a program involving all citizens and designed to discourage burglary and theft by permanently identifying valuables in homes and businesses by engraving, photographing, and recording serial numbers and descriptions. Stickers are issued to participants so that would-be thieves know that the property in your home has been inventoried.

Should your home be broken in, despite all efforts and precautions you have taken, the property inventory provides the necessary information for a detailed police report. The information on your property inventory list will greatly assist the Fayetteville Police Department in recovering your property.
